MAKING PLANS NOW FOR DEFENSE DAY

WILL BE OBSERVED ON SEPTEMBER 12.

EVERY MAN REGISTERS

Program for Day Includes Sham Battles, Parades and Demonstration of Potential Force Here.

In accordance with the plan of National Defense day as enacted by congress in 1916, Battery C will join with all other organizations of the county in observing the Defense Test Day which is to be held on September 12, the anniversary of St. Mihiel Day.

Battery C will join with the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Spanish American War veterans, the G. A. R. and the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. The program for the day will be under the supervision of L. M. Eek, president of the Chamber of Commerce and commander of the American Legion.

According to the orders received by the local battery officials every man in the county is requested to register with one or more of the organizations which are mobilized for the day in order to ascertain the strength obtainable in case of emergency. Major Rolf Raynor pointed out that this order requests the men to register whether they are physically disabled or not as it is to be remembered that in case of emergency such as in the late world war that the men are put in the positions which they are best qualified to fill so as those who are physically disabled for active service can be placed in some other activity.

The tentative program for the Defense Day as was outlined by Major Raynor includes parades, sham battles and demonstration of the potential force of the county. The local battery will mobilize at 6 o'clock on this day and will be under arms all during the day.

Any citizen of the county may enroll as an honorary member of the battery for that day and will be issued a suit and be given his dinner free by the battery. This registration does not hold the citizen under any obligations after September 12.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR CHURCH APPROVED

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE ORDERS PLANS DRAWN.

$25,000 IS RAISED

Between $35,000 and $40,000 Will Be Required—Will Make More Room Available.

A resolution, ordering plans drawn for repairing and building a new unit on the First M. E. Church, was passed at the session of the quarterly conference held at the local church yesterday afternoon.

The addition and improvements will necessitate an expenditure of from $35,000 to $40,000. A total of $25,000 in pledges has been raised by the members of the local church. Walter Boschem, an architect at St. Joseph, will be employed to draw up the plans for the church improvements.

Work will be started this fall and it is hoped to have the work completed by the first of next year.

The tentative plans call for an addition 40x45 feet on the northwest corner of the present building. The addition will consist of one story and a basement. A steam heating plant and coal room, women's and men's rest rooms will be placed in the basement. On the first floor, there will be a storage room, three class rooms and the pastor's study. An oak rail in place of the metal rail will be placed in front of the gallery. The stairways from the gallery to the platform will be taken out.

The west wall of the auditorium will be repaired. The two tower rooms will be finished for Sunday school class rooms. The carpet will be taken up from the auditorium and a cork carpet put in its place. The roof will be repaired with new valleys and flashing of copper. The large windows in the gallery will be remodeled. The auditorium will be replastered where needed, and decorated. It is planned to put in an indirect lighting system.

The furnaces will be taken out and the basement floor lowered three feet. A concrete floor, covered with asphaltam carpet, will be installed. On the south side of the basement ,three extra class rooms will be put in. The League and Primary rooms will be equipped in the same way, so that the whole basement can be thrown into one room for social gatherings, pageantry purposes, bazaars and banquets.

The improvements, when completed, will make ten additional class rooms to the Sunday school equipment. A tile drain will be put around the foundation on the outside and will be covered with water-proof cement.

Over 300 Trunks Handled This Week And Losses Or Mistakes Occurred.

Over three hundred trunks and approximately as many suit cases and other packages were handled by the local taxi stations in the exodus of College students this week end who were leaving for their homes. There was not a mistake or lost article in the entire lot, according to Pearl Taylor, manager of a local taxi station.

This is the first time so many articles were handled by the local taxi companies and is the first time that no mistakes were made. The reason for the accuracy in handling the baggage is attributed to the prechecking and advance sale of tickets which were made by both stations.

MEXICO IN EFFORT SATISFY BRITISH

TO SUBMIT NOTE DEPLORING MURDER.

INVESTIGATION ASKED

England Wants U. S. to Aid in Probe of Affair Saturday Night—Irresponsible Parties are Blamed.

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—Mexico made every effort today to bridge the widening gulf between this country and England over the killing Saturday night of Mrs. Rosalin Evans, British subject, by agrarians near her ranch in Pueblo.

The Mexican government is prepared to submit a note deploring the murder of the woman, whose body was riddled with bullets.

London, Aug. 4.—The British foreign office today asked the United States to investigate the killing of Mrs. Rosalin Evans and also to protect all of Great Britain's rights in this affair. It was expected the foreign office would make formal protest to the Mexican government within forty-eight hours.

This is due to the fact that the American Charge de Affairs at Mexico City is acting as the British diplomatic representative since the departure of the British charge, H. A. C. Cummings, whose troubles with Mexican officials were the direct outcome of his efforts to aid Mrs. Evans.

Washington, Aug. 4.—An investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Evans will be made by Arthur Schoenfeld, the American Charge de Affairs at Mexico City, it was announced at the State Department today.

Mexico City, Aug. 4.—The government, it is understood, will attribute the killing to irresponsible persons who are now being sought in the Puebla mountains by federal troops. Mexico will pledge its government to use every possible means to bring the assassins to justice and punishment.

The body of Mrs. Evans has been brought ehre to the office of the British consul-general. It is likely burial will be in Mexico City.

A NATIONAL PROBLEM.

Three of the eight committees appointed by Herbert Hoover to arrange a preliminary plan for a uniform traffic system for the United States have completed their work. The five other committees will meet within a few weeks and the joint report of the eight committees will be embodied in recommendations sent the national traffic conference in Washington in November.

Reports of the first three committees revealed that there is an annual loss of nearly $60,000,000 in the United States due to loss of time brought about through traffic congestion. New York and Chicago have the largest losses in this connection.

These losses, the committee believes, grows largely out of a lack of a comprehensive nation-wide traffic control program. The phenomenal growth of the automobile, of course, is directly responsible for the growing congestion. But this, the committee adds, will be abated only when highways reach the saturation point and will not be materially influenced by a decrease in the purchasing power of the public.

It is relatively simple to agree that traffic congestion is getting beyond control. No community of any size is free of it. One way streets in a certain measure solve the problem, but even these in many instances, besides being only local remedies, cause more trouble than they alleviate. The matter can be tackled successfully only from a national standpoint with a national program reaching from coast to coast. By ending confusion attendant upon conflicting statutes and regulations such a program would go far toward offering a solution.

A WONDERFUL GROWTH.

The nation last year did a thriving internal revenue business. Receipts during 1923, according to figures given out from Washington, amounted to $2,793,896,251 while the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and California were leaders in contributing to the national coffers.

Nothing, perhaps is so clearly indicative of the growth of the nation as internal revenue figures. In 1800, when the country was in its infancy, $800,000 was directed to the national treasury by the several states. Until 1860 the figures fluctuated greatly, gaining at periods and losing at others, until 1879 when the high mark was reached. In that year $184,000,000 was the internal revenue. In 1900 it had jumped to $234,000,000 and by 1910 it had reached $333,000,000. The billion class was not reached until 1918, and two years later the record of our national existence, $5,000,000,000, was attained.

Although the amount collected this year is far below that of 1920, when incomes were larger, the internal revenue department is safely holding up its proportion of national income.

Some time ago some one carelessly left a milk bottle on the sill of one of the upper windows of a hotel in St. Louis. Later on it fell and struck a woman on the head. She has brought suit against the hotel company for $10,000. Little things often produce

Donald MacMillan, Arctic explorer on the schooner Bowdoin, has left his Winter quarters and reached a point 187 miles south of Ellsmere land on his return to the United States. According to London papers, developments in Greece point to the restoration of a monarchy, and the exiled King George, now in England, is quoted as saying it will only be a matter of a short time before he is recalled to Athens. It is reported in Ottawa, Canada, that a syndicate headed by Charles M. Schwab will buy the $31,000,000 properties of the British-American Nickel Company, which recently went into liquidation. Mrs. Laura H. Fleischmann, wife of the multi-millionaire "yeast king," of Cincinnati, O., and New York, has secured a Paris divorce. It is reported she will wed Jay O'Brien, divorced husband of Mae Murray, film star, and of Lone Fenwick, actress.

J. C. Penney once sold calico across the counter in the little town of Hamilton, Missouri. Now he operates 175 department stores in this country. He is not measuring goods over the counter now but he is still a merchant nevertheless and knows the merchandising business not only at the bottom but at the top as well. There has been a lot of argument in this campaign as to what constitutes a "dirt" farmer. A man doesn't have to go around with dirt in his ears and knots in his hair to be a real farmer as some town gentlemen would seem to think. He doesn't have to confine his operations to a five acre truck patch in order that he may understand and sympathize with the problems and interests of the farm and the great business of agriculture. If one man is able to operate and succeed on a larger scale than another, it is simply a testimonial to his greater executive and business capacity. To be a successful farmer of the present day a man must also be a good business man because successful agriculture is a business and a business that has been carried on under the most trying difficulties of late years. Nobody knows that better than the man who has been through it the last few years.

A JOLT FOR JACK WALTON.

President Stratton D. Brooks of the University of Missouri must be highly gratified over his "vindication"—he didn't need any—at the hands of the new Board of Regents of the University of Oklahoma. It will be recalled that in 1922 Dr. Brooks, who had been president of the Oklahoma school for 10 years, resigned. Gov. Jack Walton, since impeached and deposed, had created a new Board of Regents with the intention of "getting" Dr. Brooks. The distinguished educator got out from under, and the Missouri institution acquired him at a higher salary.

The other day the Board of Regents created under the administration of Gov. Tapp voted unanimously to invite Dr. Brooks to resume his place at the head of the University of Oklahoma. Explaining that in justice to the University of Missouri he could not consider a return to Oklahoma, Dr. Brooks declined, with thanks.

One is inclined to wonder just what effect this incident will have upon former Gov. Walton, now a candidate for nomination for the United States Senate. It probably is a jolt for Jack, though he is regarded as almost jolt-proof.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE BUILDING AND LOAN.

Statistics compiled by the United States League of Local Building and Loan associations reveal that $598,408,927 was added to the assets of the building and loan associations of the country during the last fiscal year, while membership increased 838,736.

The report disclosed that there are 10,744 building and loan associations in the United States, with a membership totaling 7,202,880 and assets aggregating $3,940,939,880. The increase in membership in the last fiscal year was slightly over thirteen percent while the increase in assets amounted to a little less than eighteen percent. There was $1,260,000,000 advanced by associations last year on home mortgages. Pennsylvania, with a total increase of $121,000,000 led the nation in proportionate gain.

These figures gives an insight into the huge army of the thrifty in this country, generally considered the most wasteful in the world. If great industrial enterprises could practice the same thrift displayed by America's building and loan army of over 7,000,000—if forests and other natural resources could be conserved with the same intensity the public apparently is giving the saving of money—the black mark of wastefulness which has been checked, and possibly rightfully, against the nation, might be erased.

From the way a lot of politicians and candidates talk about cutting down taxes and saving money for the dear people one would think the tax burden was likely to be lifted entirely and that every citizen would be paid for accepting the manifold blessings and protection of his government. As a matter of fact, if a good many well intentioned fellows were able to do the things they advocate, it would probably save not more than one-tenth of one cent to each individual taxpayer. There is nothing more desirable than economy in government but it is one thing to talk and quite another thing to be able to do.

Playing in a stiff gale that caused almost every drive to be a slice, the Maryville golf team won the championship of the I-M golf association yesterday afternoon on the local country club course. The total number of strokes was 593 for the champions to 603 for their Iowa opponents.

In number of pars made the two teams were tied. In bogeys Maryville had the edge with forty-one to thirty-seven for Clarinda. Masters of Clarinda led the field with six pars, while Sims of Maryville and Meyer of Clarinda tied with ten bogeys each.

Because of the wind no exceptional scores were made. Meyer of Clarinda was low with 92, while Hamilton of Maryville pressed him closely with a 93. Wescott of Clarinda won the booby prize with a 112. Eller of Clarinda messed up a good score by taking a ten on his ninth hole.

The match yesterday leaves Clarinda in a three-way tie with Shenandoah and Red Oak for second place honors. Yesterday's match was a postponed one and was the only one played as the other teams in the association had already completed their play.

The individual score of yesterday's match:

Maryville—	Par	Bogeys	Strokes
Sims	5	10	96
Vogt	2	6	98

Entries Pouring in for Missouri Fair

Room Will Probably Be Thing Most Needed When State Event Begins On August 16.

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 4.—With the closing dates for all entries near at hand, indications are that all livestock barns will be filled, all available outside space utilized, and that room will be the one thing most needed when the Missouri State Fair starts its eight-day celebration at Sedalia on the morning of August 16.

The late upward trend in livestock prices has given a decided impetus to livestock entries, and producers are hastening to get their choice animals on the books by the closing dates. Most of the livestock producing states of the Union are already represented and entries are pouring into the office daily from Missouri counties whose producers waited until near the closing date to make their entries.

Altogether prospects seem to indicate that the greatest gathering of livestock exhibits and other exhibits from the farm that have ever been brought together at one time in Missouri, will be on display. A feeling of optimism reigns on the State Fair Grounds in anticipation of what is hoped to be recorded Missouri's greatest State Fair.

All of the amusement features on the $25,000 amusement program have been contracted for and some are already arranging their places of festivities on the Fair Grounds. Nothing remains now but putting the final touches before the opening date and these touches are going forward in all departments.

MOVING PICTURES

Show goers desiring to see three of the fastest steppers and cleverest dancing acrobats should not miss the Empire Theater program tonight and tomorrow. The Pearson trio with their full of pep acrobatic and dancing specialties supreme carry the honors in high class vaudeville entertainment.

The men are expert novelty dancers and have an uncanny way of keeping step and tapping their feet to the tune of music and at the same time perform difficult acrobatic stunts. The young lady with the company performs some very astounding feats on the piano in accompanying the dancers.

Colleen Moore, the flapper of the silver screen, appears in "Painted People" as the feature number of the program at the Empire. "Painted People" is a fascinating picture that deals with gay society life and the thrilling experiences in which a beautiful young maiden finds herself.

A Pointer on Tobacco—
The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

Jack-Colbert Wedding.

The following account of the wedding of Miss True Jack of Lincoln, Neb., and Jules Philip Colbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert of Maryville, appeared in yesterday's Lincoln Star:

Soft pastel shades, candle light, and summer blossoms combined to make the charming setting for the first of the late summer weddings Saturday night, when Miss True Jack, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jack, became the bride of Jules Philip Colbert. Dr. Ray E. Hunt, the church pastor, read the marriage service at 8:30 o'clock at the First Christian Church, before four hundred guests.

The bride and groom and the attendants stood before the church altar which was massed with baskets of rich colored gladioli, overtopping which was a dark background of ferns, palms, and feathery greenery. At either end and gleaming among the flowers were holders bearing slender cathedral candles.

During the seating of the guests, Miss Dorothy Williams gave an organ program of nuptial music and she played the wedding music from Lohengrin for the entrance of the wedding party. Mrs. C. E. Matson, accompanied by Miss Williams sang, "Calm as the Night," Bohn, "At Dawning," Cadman, and "As the Dawn," Cantor.

The first to enter were six of the younger girls, Jane Sunderland, Betty Rider, Frances Ireland, Gretchen Fee, Lucile Miller, and Faith Arnold, all former students of Mrs. Colbert's at Prescott school. They were frocked in white and carried ribbons of white tulle to form an aisle.

The ushers, Earl Hildebrand, C. Myron Loomis, C. H. Deterly, jr., and Francis Diers, and the assistant ushers, Glen Mason and Harold Baugh, came down the side aisles of the church and Sarah Vance, the junior bridesmaid, in a frock of flesh colored voile over pink silk, walked down a side aisle.

Two of the bridesmaids, Mrs. Francis Diers and Miss Carolyn Reed, were dressed in pink with over slips of lace. Mrs. Frederick Coleman of Ulysses wore a sleeveless gown of pink georgette, lace trimmed. The bridesmaids carried baskets of summer flowers.

Mrs. C. Myron Loomis, the matron of honor, came down the center aisle, immediately preceded by the tiny flower girl, Betty Green. Mrs. Loomis' gown was of chiffon in a soft green, heavily beaded, and she had an arm bouquet of pink roses. Betty had a fluffy frock of pink and white organdy.

The bride entered with her father, and met Mr. Colbert and his groomsman, Forrest Gillam of Maryville, Mo., at the altar. Mrs. Colbert was lovely in a white crepe satin gown, fashioned with a tight basque and flaring skirt. The dress was inset with tulle, and the trimming was in flowers of pearls and rhinestones. Her veil, falling to the edge of her gown, was of rose point, and was held with a bandeau of lace and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and swansonia.

After the ceremony, a reception for two hundred guests was held at the bride's home, 2043 Sewell street. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Colbert were Mr. and Mrs. Jack and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert, parents of the groom. While the guests passed through the receiving line, Miss Helen Oberlies and Miss Margaret Mahaffey gave a program of violin and piano numbers.

Mrs. Oscar Johnson and Miss Sylvia Lewis were in charge of the dining room and Miss Beatrice Craig invited the guests to the dining room. Miss Rose Shonka and Mrs. M. C. Tousey cut the ices and during the first hour, Miss Fae Breese, Miss Betty Scribner and Miss Ruth Sunderland, and Mrs. Forrest Gillam served. In the second hour, Mrs. C. H. Deterly, Mrs. Paul Cobel, Miss Elsie Neely and Miss Phyllis Ireland served.

Miss Elinor Bennett was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. C. W. Beam and Miss Josephine Hyatt were in the gift room.

Mr. and Mrs. Colbert have gone on a motor trip to Yellowstone Park and Colorado points. Mrs. Colbert is traveling in a black moire tailored dress and black felt hat.

Mrs. Colbert is a graduate of the university, and is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, Mortar Board, and Phi Beta Kappa. Since her graduation, she has been teaching domestic arts at Prescott school. Mr. Colbert graduated from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy, where he is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Among the out-of-town guests at the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gillam of Maryville; and Mrs. M. S. Tousey of Anderson, Ind., sister of Mrs. Colbert.

Motorists Want to Know

Motorists frequently put this question to attendants at service stations of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana):

"Is it not a fact that gasoline prices vary more throughout the United States than do the prices of any other product?"

The answer is quoted from the Oil and Gas Journal issue of June 12, 1924:

"Gasoline prices are more uniform than most of the widely utilized commodities. Thirty-five states have gasoline taxes varying in amounts from 1 to 4 cents. This fact would necessitate a difference in retail prices of as great as 4 cents in some states. Crude oil is found in a comparatively small area of the United States and this fact also necessitates variances in the retail prices due largely to the difference in transportation costs from the crude producing fields and the refineries to the gasoline consuming areas. The price differences, however, are not as great as in many other products. For instance, a recent monthly survey made by the United States Bureau of Labor covering twenty-nine cities scattered throughout the United States showed the following high and low range in prices in several commodities: Sirloin steak, 26 to 61.5 cents per lb.; sugar, 9.6 to 12.7 cents per lb.; bituminous coal, $4.50 to $17.40 per ton; flour, 3.3 to 5.5 cents per lb., and oranges, 27.9 to 49.5 cents per dozen. The low in gasoline prices for the same cities was 12.8 cents and the high 20 cents. The survey was made last December when gasoline prices were lower than they are at the present although the same price range is in effect."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) serves the automobiling public by maintaining at convenient intervals throughout the Middle West, an efficient chain of service stations, which sell gasoline and oils of uniform high quality, at prices as nearly uniform as freight rates and tax laws permit.

The price of gasoline sold by this Company is subject only to the uncertainties of economic laws, which no commodities may avoid.

This highly trained organization of 27,000 men and women is straining every nerve and fibre that you may have gasoline when and where you want it—of highest quality and at a price which is fair, equitable and low at all times.

Boyish Maine Orator Would Support Davis

Candidate for Legislature 22 Years Old in Favor of Autos in Islesboro.

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Me., Aug. 2.—Into the peace and tranquility of Islesboro, where John W. Davis, Presidential Democratic candidate, has found a refuge from political turmoil—and the only place in Maine where an automobile has never been seen—comes Roy L. Fernald.

Twenty-two years old, Fernald, youngest candidate for the Maine Legislature and "the kid delegate" to the recent Democratic convention, brings to this isolated village a platform plank to abolish the law prohibiting automobiles.

"Islesboro villagers have been Robinson Crusoes long enough," said young Fernald today. "The Summer colonists don't want automobiles—they're used to them back home. I shall conduct a postalcard referendum on the question which will prevent the Summer people influencing the vote."

No Autos Here.

There are a few of the three hundred natives in Islesboro that have been outside Penobscot Bay. Many have never been off the island. Since the island was settled, in 1764, the only means of transportation throughout its length of thirteen miles has been by boat, horse-drawn surreys and buckboards.

Fernald is making a house-to-house canvas here on his candidacy and sent word to Mr. Davis, on Seven Hundred Acres Island just across the water, offering the nominee his services as "the youngest stump speaker" in the coming campaign.

Fernald was born in Boston, moving to Winterport a few miles from here, when his parents died. At Winterport he attended the village school, sold papers and worked in the general store. He won an appointment to West Point, but "was too much of an individualist," securing an honorable discharge to re-enter the University of Maine. He is now a junior in Harvard Law School.

Sought Office At 20.

Two years ago, when Fernald was but twenty years old, he was defeated for the State Legislature by only six votes. He is already planning to run for Congress from this District in 1928, when he will have attained the qualifying age. It is the same district that elected James G. Blaine to his first term at Washington.

Young Fernald believes that Republican Maine has a good chance to be won by the Democrats this year. As one of the pace-making States, the result of the Gubernatorial election, which occurs two months before the Presidential poll, may show the way the political breeze is blowing, he remarked today.

"New England in general probably will go to Coolidge," Fernald declared. "But William R. Pattengall, Democratic candidate for Governor in Maine has a good chance to win. Even if he is defeated by less than 20,000 votes it should prove a good omen for Davis. In 1920 the Republican ticket won by 75,000 votes."

Pattengall Sees Davis.

Pattengall visited Mr. Davis on Seven Hundred Acre Island recently and discussed the Maine situation with the Presidential nominee. The Gubernatorial fight in Maine is curiously similar to the McAdoo-Smith battle of the convention, with parallel religious lines being drawn. Pattengall came out against the klan in his speech at the Democratic convention. His likely political opponent in the coming election will be Ralph O. Brewster, said to be supported by the klan against Frank P. Farrington, president of the State Senate. A bitter split in the Republican ranks has caused a recount of the recent primaries, in which Brewster advocated a constitutional amendment compelling Maine children to attend public schools. This stand is recognized as a fight against the parochial schools, which Farrington is defending.

This family quarrel in the Republican party is bound to aid Pattengall and, indirectly, Davis, according to young Fernald.

The statue has been set up in the Central Hall of the Royal Courts of Justice in London.

Many Improvements Made at High School

Repairs and Changes are Being Made at Building—Will Be Completed by Opening of School.

A number of repairs and changes are being made at the high school building during the summer vacation. A partition has been made in the office of Supt. L. E. Ziegler, so as to enable him to have a private room in which to hold conferences.

An office has been erected in the corridor north of the assembly hall for the principal's room. Windows have been placed in the wall of the room so that the principal may have a clear view of the study hall at all times.

The stage in the assembly hall has been enlarged and new footlights and other stage equipment have been erected. This will aid greatly in the giving of assembly programs from the stage and also the work of the dramatics club.

Wainscoating has been erected on the east and west walls of the gymnasium. This will protect the players from the rough plaster walls which were originally erected in the gymnasium. The wainscoating is about five feet high and has been stained and varnished.

A large number of the recitation rooms have been redecorated and tables and added equipment placed in several of the rooms. The work will be finished before September.

Easy to Get in or Out of Trouble in Maryville

Doctors, lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, osteopaths and optometrists—all necessary at times for the continuance of our happiness and health, and Maryville is blessed with a goodly number of each.

A survey of the business district of Maryville shows that nobody need hunt for a lawyer very long, the list of members belonging to the Maryville bar indicating thirty-one who have been admitted by the Circuit Court of this district. In other words there is a lawyer for every one hundred and sixty-first inhabitant of the city of Maryville. This ratio is based on a population of 5,000.

Maryville was given credit by the Federal census takers in 1920, with a population of 4,711, but many citizens of the city disagreed on this point and the opinion is generally avowed that at the present time at least 5,000 men, women and children reside within the city limits of Maryville.

There may be some dispute on this point as the Federal census in 1910, credited Maryville with 4,762 and then shows a decrease for the next ten years. Also the county of Nodaway showed a slump in twenty years, from 32,938 in 1900, to 27,744 in 1920. But it is generally agreed that the county seat houses 5,000 souls.

As to the supply of physicians who have M. D. degrees, Maryville boasts of thirteen, distributing them out to 384 residents. Next come the dentists in numerical order. They number seven to be exact. Then if everybody in the city was afflicted at the same time with unbelievable pain in their jaws, causing them to go around shrieking and holding one side of the face or the other, it matters little as to this, and they were all to line up in front of the dentist's office in equal numbers, the last one in line at each place would have the number 714 tacked on his or her arm.

Then there are those who aid the sick and crippled and do not use medicine. Chiropractors to the number of four have offices in Maryville, a ratio of one chiropractor to every 1250 Maryvillite and the osteopaths come close with three but the ratio here shows a big jump from that of the lawyers, being one to 1666. Three optometrists examine and fit glasses in the most substantial city of Northwest Missouri, tieing the osteopaths in the ratio per citizen.

Going back four years to the 1920 population of 4,711 the ratio figures out something like this:

Lawyers, one to 152; medical doctors, one to 362; dentists, one to 673; chiropractors, one to 1172; and osteopaths, one to 1570.

MARK TWAIN once said: "Everybody talks a lot about the weather, but nobody does anything about it." That may have been the situation in his days, but since wonderful strides have been made in the making of Summer Clothes, you may at least be cooler. Here's a great combination—better styles, better fabric and better workmanship.
